

My wife and I are totally OPPPOSED to the proposal of the Banking people about the change in the no call list to allow them to be able to call us for up to 18 months after we dreop them. This is the totally wrong thing to do! The intent of the no-call list is to keep them from calling us at no time so we don't have to be bothered by them. Do not allow this to happen. We want to keep our privacy and no be bothered by these idiots. The no call list must be working as is if they want it changed. They can't say the need to be able to talk to us because the banking business has not been hurt in any way by the economy.
